Lake Redding Run

Eleven-year-old Chris Claesgens of Chico was the youngest runner among the 54 who participated Sunday in the annual 7.6-mile Lake Redding Run, and also finished ahead of several other contestants. The event — formerly known as the Sacramento River Run — started Sunday morning at the entrance to Lake Redding Park on Benton Drive, followed Quartz Hill Road to Keswick Dam, then along the Sacramento River to the Diestelhorst Bridge and the finish line. The first three runners to complete the grueling course were Lee Ferrero of Weed, Pat Finn of Chico and Steve Henson of Weed.
